

Your Domestic Violence Support Group or Program Can Get You Full-Time Low or No Cost Child Care For At Least 12 Months!

ARE YOU

Getting CalWORKs cash aid or eligible for CalWORKs?

Participating in any domestic violence support groups or programs?

Caring for a child under 13 or over the age of 13 with special needs?

If you answered yes to all 3 questions, you can get stable, full-time child care at low or no cost

Here Is How

- Tell your CalWORKs worker you need child care to attend school.
- Your CalWORKs worker should give you a Child Care Request Form (CCP 7) or you can ask for one.
- Call your local child care resource and referral agency, listed below, for help finding your family's best child care option.

Your domestic violence support group or any program you are attending is an approved program activity.

This means you do not have to be working to qualify for 12 months of Stage 1 Child Care.
